

WSI Safety Professionals can assist you in making your workplace safe!

Workforce Safety & Insurance (WSI) created a performance-based incentive program that gives employers the opportunity to receive a premium discount if they meet specific claim frequency and severity rate reductions or remain loss free during the reporting period. The goal of the program is to spend less time completing paperwork and more time developing proactive and productive safety programs. There is no paperwork or audit process involved!

Ineffective accident prevention leads to occupational injuries and illnesses that can result in workers' compensation costs to skyrocket and employer profits to tumble.

The direct costs of injuries and illnesses include medical bills, lost-time replacement wages, and rehabilitation costs. The hidden or indirect costs of injuries and illnesses may range from four to ten times the direct costs. Indirect costs resulting from injuries and illnesses include but are not limited to the following:

- Cost of training a replacement worker
- Loss of production
- Failure to meet schedules
- Administrative costs
- Damaged products
- Lost staff time

Employers can strengthen worker relations by making safety a priority. Workers will feel better about their jobs and themselves when they have a strong sense that the organization cares.
