

WORK SAFE. HOME SAFE.

Every Moment You Look Away Matters

A quick text. A quick glance at GPS. A quick bite of food. That is all it takes.

Distracted driving is anything that pulls your eyes, hands or mind off the road. It's all dangerous. And texting can raise your crash risk up to 23 times.

Before you drive:

- Silence your phone.
- Set your music and navigation.
- Keep both hands on the wheel.

If you need to check something, pull over first. Your family needs you home safely more than they need a fast reply.

Stay focused. Stay alert. Get Home Safe.
